A JOURNEY INTO THE WORLD OF CHOCOLATE THAT INVOLVES ALL THE SENSES

Turned into the comfortable tasting room of the Bottega in Via Lagrange inside the frame of an elegant historical building of 1700, the guided tasting is a moment of gluttony and relaxation.

During the tasting you will know the history and the secrets of the Artisan Chocolate, the origins of the main raw materials and the most important processing stages will be discovered and, of course, you can taste some specialties of the Guido Gobino Selection.

From the classic giandujotti, to ranati cremini, up to the newest creations. The whole, possibly, completed by one or two dedicated drinks: Hot chocolate, Bicerin, classic or summery, Barolo Chinato or Vermouth.

12:30

Lunch at Pastificio Defilippis est. 1872

The DeFilippis pasta factory was opened in 1872 at number 39 in via Lagrange by Domenico Toso, chef of the House of Savoy. In 1939 the place was bought by Maria Ferraris Defilippis, who renamed it with her husband's name. Since then the pasta factory has kept this name even if it has changed management. In 2008 the Damilano family took over the old property, making various changes to the premises and transforming the pasta factory into a delicatessen and restaurant as well.

The historic Turin pasta factory is therefore today a shop where you can buy fresh pasta, a delicatessen and a restaurant where you can taste the delicious dishes on its menu with fresh pasta produced in the laboratory: classic meat agnolotti with roast sauce, ravioli del plin with butter and sage, tagliatelle with white rabbit ragout and peppers, potato gnocchi with sausage and aubergines, spaghetti alla chitarra and much more. To you the choice. You can enjoy them comfortably seated at one of the tables in the restaurant housed in the old pasta factory or take them home for a special dinner or a classic Sunday family lunch.

But the restaurant's menu does not stop at just fresh pasta. And gastronomy also offers many other ready-to-eat dishes to be enjoyed at home: from the Piedmontese "great classics" such as Russian salad, veal with tuna sauce, savory pies and assorted flans, up to chicken, prawn or octopus with potatoes, roast beef and roasts with steamed, grilled or soured vegetables.

Please note :

A 4-course dinner accompanied by a bottle of Piedmontese wine, water and coffee.
